It isn't just the big things that get in our way. Often it is a series of small things that create what appear to be insurmountable obstacles.

Life is generally "dysfunctional." Things are always changing and just tend to get in the way of living.

Maybe it is time to stop thinking you are the only one with a dysfunctional family spinning out of control.

There is help. We are here for you, on your timetable.

*"It can help

to listen,
really listen."*

More and more people are now blessed with longevity. We all live longer, much longer, than previous generations. And, we are now seeing the development of unique problems making our longevity a mixed blessing.

Life's hills and valleys can eventually add up to anxiety, stress, sleepless nights, not feeling well and an inability to enjoy our lives.

At ViewPointe, we help you break life's events down into manageable pieces that make the whole more clear and navigable. We specialize in counseling individuals, couples, families and groups.

Psychiatrists on staff. Psychological testing available.
